

Aura Essentials Tele-Course

Discover your internal tool for empowering self-development is an international academy that created a self-development system which allows people to achieve goals that can otherwise seem impossible. This system is based on the Aura (Human Energy Field) and can be used to transform any aspect of your life, including relationships, career, health, life purpose, and direction.

Healaura

The Aura plays a prominent role in your life and needs to be balanced and maintained.

There are many myths about the Aura and its role in your life. Most people are not aware of its true power. The Aura is not just an energy field with colours that reflects things like your personality and health. It is a tool that can have immense influence on your life on a daily basis.

Many people are far away from reaching their true potential

...because of the lack of knowledge of how to use and keep their Aura charged with energy. Once the Aura is rejuvenated and properly maintained, it can guide you in every moment of your life. It can also act as a bridge to your spiritual guides and higher realms of energy. The Healaura system allows people to use their Aura for everything from choosing the right place and time to act, to nutrition choices, to resolving relationship issues, making career decisions, and choosing a life partner.
